

Second North American Conference on Academic Dress in the New World

Call for papers and registration details

Convocation Procession, Acadia University

Dan Callis/Acadia University Office of Advancement

7 and 8 June 2018 • Trinity College • University of Toronto

The conference will cover research on the history of academic dress, its form, function, and meanings, and updates on original research conducted by the attendees. The event will have a Canadian focus but we also encourage speakers from the US.

The registration fee includes a reception on Thursday evening, with hors d'oeuvres and cash bar, and a light lunch at the Friday programme.

Thursday, 7 June: Evening reception

Registration: C$100

Friday, 8 June: Programme

Register at www.burgon.org.uk/sub/news.php

Events in the Combination Room of Trinity College, at 6 Hoskin Avenue, Toronto.

The Burgon Society was formed in London in 2000 to promote the study of academic dress. Papers and presentations accepted for the conference will be hosted at newprairiepress.org/burgonsociety, and presenters will be invited to submit their work for publication in Transactions of the Burgon Society.

For more information, contact Steve Wolgast at wolgast@ksu.edu and (785) 370-6350.

THE BURGON SOCIETY

Founded to promote the study of Academical Dress